

EOFY 2026 IMPACT REPORT

'Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice, and let them say among the nations, "The Lord reigns!"' - 1 Chronicles 16:31

Dear Nav Family,

What a joy it is knowing our sovereign Lord reigns! He who holds the nations in His hands is always present with us, helping us to move and to act according to His glorious will. He makes 'rivers flow on barren heights, and springs within the valleys... turn(s) the desert into pools of water, and the parched ground into springs.' All so that 'people may see and know, may consider and understand, that the hand of the Lord has done this' (Isaiah 41:18;20).

Over the last year, the gracious hand of the Lord has been on display through the lives and joyful contributions of so many. We're grateful for being recipients of His grace, through faithful partners like you, whose generosity in prayer and giving have strengthened every part of our mission and made a lasting impact. By this partnership, we've seen God draw people to Himself, open doors for new evangelistic initiatives, bring spiritual growth through discipleship, build up a new generation of labourers and impact the nations, all to the glory of God.

Advancing Among the Lost

'How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them?'
Romans 10:14-15

- Alex (UK exchange student) had no interest in Jesus initially but accepted an invitation to join the ANU Navs and built a friendship with our staff, JT Herboldsheimer, who shared the gospel with him. Alex committed to following Jesus and has returned to the UK to spread the good news.
- During the International Student Ministry Conference, Victor*, a student from Monash, heard the truth of God through the messages, workshops and worship. By the third day, when he was presented the gospel by Andrew Yong, Victor made a confession of faith.
- Through personal interaction in English Conversation class, a woman shared with Rod Jolly about her son's mental condition and its impact on her. Rod offered to mentor and befriend her son and invited her to watch the Alpha videos in Chinese. She said yes, and by the fourth video, had given her life to Jesus.
- The English College at Macquarie University approved us to hold weekly English conversation classes. This new opportunity filled Theresa Suan with immense joy because it opened a new door for ministry and again revealed the faithfulness of God.
- Recently, Mike Johnson led a Christianity Explained course for people seeking to learn more about Christ. At the end of this course, Gabrielle* accepted Christ and is steadily growing in her faith. She has since invited her daughter along to church.
- There's been a great vibe at the VIP BBQs run by ADFA cadets with around 30 in attendance. Many have invited their non-believing friends along.
- US transplant Caleb Glenn is pioneering among students at the University of Queensland with Rob Bolton. They have begun with a strong emphasis on sharing the gospel.

Labouring Generations

'And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable people who will also be qualified to teach others.' – 2 Timothy 2:2

- Two students at Monash University are taking God's word seriously and intentionally owning the call to make disciples. Paul Bailey is now building on the foundations of their growing faith, investing time developing their ability to share Christ and help others grow.
- Aiden, who was discipled by Dustyn McLaren, is now discipling Jonah and took up the invitation to attend a mission trip to South-East Asia. He has caught the desire to see the gospel go into the nations and hopes to be involved in ministry longer term.
- A young intern from the US, Evie Lenze, has joined the team at ANU and has been discipling two students who are growing in the faith.
- Haven Barr, who was discipled at Macquarie University, is now labouring among a group of young men on the campus. Joining him are Emilli and Grace, also discipled at MQU, who are now helping the next generation come to know, love and live for Christ.
- Laine Roberts connected with Eva, who was not a believer, last year in her recruiting efforts at ANU. Earlier this year, Eva publicly proclaimed her faith in Jesus and is now opening doors to weekly connections with lodge residents where she is a student head.
- Aye, a student from Myanmar, was led to faith by Luke Midena and has been discipled by him for the past three years. In that time, he has led several friends to faith and is leading regular Bible discussions, one with his two Malaysian housemates. He is now considering a return to Myanmar to share the gospel among his Buddhist community.

Into the Nations

'Declare his glory among the nations, his marvellous deeds among all peoples.' – Psalm 96:3

- In July we facilitated a short-term mission experience in South-East Asia for students and young adults. The team of 10 aimed to share personal and biblical stories that point to Jesus and encourage and learn from Indonesian labourers faithfully making generational disciples. We hope the trip sparks a vision and heart for the nations in those who went.
- National office staff members Jaye Cox and Lynn Pak travelled to Navigator Headquarters in Colorado to attend an International Administrators Consultation Forum. They returned encouraged, knowing their work mattered in the advance of the gospel into the nations.
- We partnered with the Fijian Navigators to support their vision of a reintegration program for people who'd been in prison and to bolster their university student ministry program that impacts students from across the Pacific.
- Part of the leadership team were able to attend the New Zealand National Conference and also participated in a forum focused on pioneering opportunities within the Pacific Islands.

Sustaining Generational Labourers

'Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.' – Galatians 6:9

- People of Passion, a weekly small group community pioneered by Doug Utley, helped equip many people to know God deeply, reflect Christ naturally and share Christ intentionally.
- Stu McLeod and Dustyn are partnering powerfully together to connect people from Stu's work to the good news of Christ.

- Luke ran a training on building a generational disciple-making ministry attended by 65 people, many of whom were new contacts. He also hosted a Labourers' forum with recent graduates and retirees engaged in making disciples outside the university context.
- In June, a Discipleship Summit was held in Gympie. 30 people who are involved in various disciple-making ministries attended to discuss the joy of evangelism and follow-up.
- Three staff attended a university forum in Bali with fellow Navigators from the Asia Pacific. It was very encouraging and a source of connection with what the Lord is doing regionally.
- In our Monash Ministry, there were student retreats for labourers and emerging leaders.
- Ian McIntosh worked with an overseas missionary who was weighed down by many issues, including a quiet feeling that he wasn't acceptable. Through sessions together, these burdens began to lift, giving him a deeper sense of the Lord's love.
- One of June Sparks' long-term Christian friends asked June to mentor her monthly as she works through following Jesus faithfully in a new location with a new church fellowship.
- This year, 25 ADFA Navs joined with FOCUS for a fun-filled Spring Camp in Jindabyne.
- The Melbourne Labourer Community looked at 'What is disciple-making?', giving attendees practical tips to get started, and wisdom for disciple-making throughout their life.

Summary

God has been at work advancing His kingdom among the lost, deepening faith across generations, extending His reach into the nations, and sustaining the very labourers doing this work – all by His grace and sovereign hand. Please continue to pray with us, as we seek to see this occurring more and more, from generation to generation, for years to come.

The financial picture on the following pages is a continuation of the grace-filled story told in numbers. Thank you for placing trust in us to steward what's been given from God, through you.

Each year, we run two campaigns: one to support our national labourers, and one supporting those in other nations. Late last year, we raised $6,700 to build foundational support for staff in our Canberra and Gympie ministries. More recently, we contributed $10,000 to support two international efforts: building a 'Soul Care Centre' in Fiji to help those recently released from prison and recruiting staff who will pioneer a campus ministry at the University of the South Pacific in Suva. In a recent meeting with Isea, National Director for the Fiji Navigators, he expressed to me how deeply grateful he is for the funds they received through your generous gifts.

These one-off contributions, alongside the generous monthly donations from many of you, totalled $1.70 million in income, covering our expenditure of $1.67 million.¹

In addition to the donations we received, we were able to provide for Staff Development and Care through the Endowment Fund. This fund contributed $19,000 towards assisting individual staff needs, our staff retreat, and two staff trainings. Our God is good!

We cannot state enough how deeply grateful we are for your partnership with us in the gospel through your prayers, financial gifts and steadfast encouragement! So thank you for standing with us! We know that through your love, support and partnership, God has made all this possible!

'From Him and through Him and for Him are all things. To Him be the glory forever' (Romans 11:36).

By His grace and for His glory,

Scott Brown
National Director
